

IT 111 Week 11 Podcast

Hello and welcome to the final podcast for IT 111. This podcast will include some reminders and answers to questions I often receive from students at the end of the quarter.

My first reminder is a request to complete the course evaluation which you should have received in an email message last week. If you didn't receive one, let me know and I'll send another one to you. The course evaluations help me improve the class for future students; they are completely anonymous; and I can't see them until after I've submitted your grades.

Thanks to the six students who've taken the three question survey already. If you haven't done it yet, I'd really appreciate your quick responses.

I won't be conducting a "real time" virtual meeting this week. And, by the way, even though I recorded the session last week, I don't think it had much useful content for those who weren't there. For this reason, I decided not to post a link to it.

If you want to talk with me this week, let me know and we can schedule a virtual office hour appointment using the phone.

If you want feedback on your final project, you must submit it by 11:59pm on Tuesday, June 16. Any projects I receive after this deadline will be graded as is without an opportunity to make improvements.

Here is my last reminder. All projects, assignments, and quizzes must be submitted by 11:59pm on Friday, June 19. I won't accept any student work after this deadline.

As I've been doing all quarter, I'll provide comments and assign points to your projects and email them to you. If you are willing to share a link to your project with other students in the class, post the URL in the Final Project Links topic in the Discussion area of Angel Learning. From the templates I've seen, I anticipate receiving several outstanding final projects this quarter.

This brings up one of the questions I get frequently get from students. How long will my compass web account last? Your web site should be available for about a week after the quarter is over. Towards the end of the quarter break, all compass accounts will be deleted.

Another question I often get is when will my final grade be available? You'll be able to see your grade on Thursday, June 25th by logging into the Student Information Services Kiosk. I'll add a link to it from the course web site. If you want to get your final grade earlier you must give me permission in an email message so I can send it to you.

Your Angel Learning accounts will be deleted during the quarter break, too.

With the exception of the online lectures and resources located in Angel Learning, you'll have access to all the other resources found on the course web site. I'm planning to teach IT 111 Summer quarter so I'll be updating and adding to the course web site as I've done this quarter.

I've enjoyed working with all of you and I hope you can find time to relax over the break. You've all earned a breather.

That's it for this final podcast. Thanks for listening and best of luck in your future web and educational pursuits. Please keep in touch and have a great summer.
